

Important information about FNS41515 Certificate IV in Life Insurance

Please note the FNS41515 Certificate IV in Life Insurance has been impacted by recent changes announced by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) and will be superseded. These changes impact all registered training organisations in Australia. ASQA has issued a final teach out date for FNS41515 Certificate IV in Life Insurance of 25 January 2023. After this date, Kaplan Professional must not issue this qualification.

To ensure students have their final assessments graded and, if successful, are issued their qualification by ASQA's final teach out date, Kaplan Professional will not accept final assessments submitted after 21 December 2022.

Due to this deadline, you may not receive the full maximum duration advertised for this course and/or may not be able to access one or more extensions that might otherwise have been available to you under Kaplan Professional's Extension Policy.

Please be aware Kaplan Professional's average completion period statistics indicate many students enrolled in this qualification require the full allocated maximum duration (including resubmission time) to complete; some also require extensions.

By continuing with your enrolment, you are committing to complete this qualification in full by 21 December 2022 and acknowledge if you do not meet this deadline, you will not receive any recognition for your partially-completed studies.

If you do not agree to this, you must not continue with your enrolment and must not undertake study of this qualification. If you have any queries, please contact Kaplan Professional for further information before proceeding.

If you do not proceed, you may be able to enrol instead in the updated version of this qualification. This will be available later in 2022 (subject to Kaplan Professional obtaining all required approvals from ASQA).

If you do continue your studies and later experience difficulties in completing by the deadline, please utilise the support options offered by Kaplan Professional in the first instance. If after receiving that support you remain concerned you will be unable to complete your studies by the deadline, please contact us promptly to discuss whether any other options are available to you.
